JULY 2017

There have been some very positive things happening recently for SCSS that we would like to share with everyone.

Firstly, we have just hired our two hundredth employee! We are now one of the largest disability and youth support service providers in the combined Queensland regions of Bundaberg, Rockhampton, Gladstone and Maryborough.

Furthermore, SCSS recently took home the Chamber of Commerce Bundaberg Business Excellence Award for “Professional Services Business of the Year” owing to our unique caliber of services including therapeutic, daily living skills, transport, employment and social support plus a wide range more for people with disability. Our services have extended beyond that of a traditional support service provider to include child protection services and childcare with the hosting of a licensed Family Day Care service and fully supported accommodation, helping residents achieve independence.

Not everyone may know this, almost six years ago SCSS started literally as a home office operation in Bundaberg, with only four team members, so you can understand why we are so very proud of what has been achieved in a short space of time. Given that over 50.7% of Australians over the age of 65 and 12.5% of Australians under age 65 have disability, this kind of impressive rapid business growth not only demonstrates our outstanding service but the demand for it.

In a Media Press release in June Director Mr Gaston said “We are proud of our achievements and look forward to being a strong presence within our communities for many years to come. None of this would be possible without the continued efforts and commitment of our dedicated staff and most of all the loyalty of our many valued clients and their families.”

NDIS Update

We would like to keep everyone up to date on what is happening with the NDIS roll out, please see the below joint media release made in May by the State and Commonwealth Governments about the early access to NDIS by people in the Rockhampton, Gladstone and Central West areas.

Queensland regions get early access to the NDIS

Hundreds of Queenslanders with disability in Ipswich, Bundaberg and Rockhampton will get earlier access to the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) thanks to a decision of the Commonwealth and Queensland Governments. The two Governments are bringing forward the NDIS start date in the next three regions to roll out, to make the most of unused capacity in the first Queensland regions to transition to the NDIS.

"While the NDIS roll out is going well in Queensland so far, we are seeing fewer access requests than we expected in the regions where the scheme is already operating, which gives us the ability to bring forward access to state clients in the next regions in line," Social Services Minister, Christian Porter, said. "This decision balances a steady pace with the desire to help people as early as we can, without jeopardizing the quality of NDIS plans. We have the resources in place to bring more Queenslanders into the scheme, starting with existing state clients, and today's change will accelerate that access process."

"Today's announcement demonstrates the shared commitment of all ministers to bring people with significant disability into the NDIS as early as possible, while maintaining a careful eye on the systems and planning processes that underpin the NDIS. "NDIS staff are continuing their outreach in existing roll out areas, to make sure that everyone who is eligible for the NDIS knows how to request access – and of course because this is an uncapped scheme, if people are eligible they will get access to the NDIS."

Assistant Minister for Disability Services, Jane Prentice, said today's change is great news for people with disability and their families in the next NDIS roll out areas. "I look forward to the NDIS continuing its productive roll out in Queensland, and I'm pleased to bring today's good news to state clients in Ipswich, Bundaberg and Rockhampton," Mrs Prentice said.

"We are bringing forward the start date for existing state clients in Bundaberg to September rather than October 2017, and in Rockhampton it will come forward to November 2017 rather than January next year. Other eligible people in both Bundaberg and Rockhampton will have entered the Scheme by June 2018.

"The NDIS is one of the largest social policy reforms in Australia's history – it is already empowering Queenslanders with disability, helping them fulfil their aspirations and participate in community life.

"Across Queensland, people are excited about the start of the NDIS and the impact it will have on their lives. I am delighted to help people in Ipswich, Bundaberg and Rockhampton feel those benefits even sooner."

More than 5,000 Queenslanders have already joined the NDIS and have their plan in place. However, demand in the first roll out regions – Townsville, Mackay and Toowoomba – has been lower than expected so far, prompting governments to bring forward the roll out of the NDIS to people waiting for the NDIS in other regions.

Queensland's Disability Services Minister, Coralee O'Rourke, said the Queensland Government had proposed the change to start dates to ensure Queenslanders get access to the NDIS as soon as possible.

"For those living in Ipswich, Bundaberg and Rockhampton, already receiving Queensland Government disability support and care, today's announcement means you can join the NDIS early," Ms O'Rourke said. "Over the coming months, staff from the National Disability Insurance Agency or NDIA will be in touch with hundreds of existing Queensland clients in Ipswich, Bundaberg and Rockhampton, helping them to request access and join this important scheme.

"To request access to the NDIS, Queenslanders in the roll out areas can visit www.ndis.gov.au or speak to NDIS staff by calling 1800 800 110.

SCSS Fishing Competition

By Kim Lovett

Our first fishing competition was held this year and it was great to see everyone getting involved. Everyone had a great time trying hard to get the perfect fish to enter their catch in the competition. At the BBQ presentation, we all sat around for the big announcements. Our proud winners were as follows:

- Ben S - Mystery Fish
- Angela T - Best Bream
- Matt C - Best Whiting
- Terry W & Ben T - Both caught great flatheads
- Anna Rose - Received an award for participation.

We must all thank our wonderful sponsors TACKLEWORLD who donated the wonderful prizes and all the bait for the competition. Thank you so much as you made the competition so much fun.

Last but not least we would like to thank Nathan W and Richard who put in all the hard work to make this competition possible. We are all looking forward to the fishing competition again next year, so everyone get your fishing rods ready and make sure you find that perfect secret fishing spot. HAPPY FISHING

Fun Run at Childers

By Rick Morse

On 5th April 2017, the Clients of Neptune Street, Maryborough (Dylan and Brad) embarked on a fun run at Childers. However, this was with a splash of colour and a good cause, (to raise money for troubled kids). The day started bright and early and the boys and support crew were on the road to Childers by 6.30 am. Upon arriving, they registered and were provided with a nice white T-shirt and of course, safety shades. These allowed the gang to look cool and be safe at the same time. Oh, nearly forgot, they were also armed with a bag of coloured chalk. This was to be thrown during the race. Not for our gang, the Client ambushed the support crew and of course they didn't go down without a fight.

The run/walk was approximately 3-4 kms and at every few hundred meters, the organisers would throw different coloured chalk at you. This provided a very colourful, enjoyable and relaxing experience. Brad ran the full distance and Dylan took a more sedate approach. The race attracted several hundred participants, consisting of the serious athletes and the fun going type. Yep, that was us. The Clients had a great morning with a touch of colour and would love to do it again. Highly recommended.

Independence doesn't come without a cost, as Bradley from Neptune Street, Maryborough is discovering. Bradley has gained part time employed for the last several months and has his own pamphlet round. Bradley collects the pamphlets every Sunday afternoon and prepares them for delivery the same night. This will generally take approximately 3-4 hours with the odd tea break and with a little distraction of his house mate or TV. Then comes the physical aspect of the job. Bradley and his support crew then delivers approximately 272 pamphlets on a Tuesday morning. This is completed rain or shine and Bradley is equipped with his hat, sun screen, water bottle and a trolley loaded with 272 pamphlets. This is providing Bradley with a financial bonus, but also life skills, dedication, commitment, sacrifice, etc. This small opportunity of employment may lead to other work, as Bradley has just undergone his first job interview with a gardening company. Fingers crossed and good luck.

Cake Competition

By Kim Lovett

We are all so excited that Angela won second prize in the cake competition at the Bundaberg show.

Angela made a yummy chocolate cake which she spent time decorating.

All this effort paid off, CONGRATULATIONS again Angela.

Client of the Month Award

Congratulations to Gavin Hayward for receiving the Client Achievement award in May!

Nominated for achieving the health goal of coming home from hospital and battling recent health issues.

Ken's Garden

Ken is very busy in his garden. Ken went to the Garden Centre and purchased a new plant which he spent all afternoon planting and caring for it. Ken is always pleased to point out this plant in his garden. If you are at Ken's unit don't forget to have a look.

Congratulations Angela

By Kim Lovett

A huge congratulations to Angela for finally earning her Bronco's jersey from her reward chart. Angela has been working very hard to achieve this goal by doing chores around her home and earning tokens.

Finally, she earned 280 tokens to get her much loved broncos jersey.

Once again Angela a job well done.

Thank you to The Waves Sports Club

We would like to take this opportunity to thank The Waves for the donation of vouchers, we greatly appreciate it!

Rockhampton takes over Bundaberg 18-April to 21-April 2017

Rockhampton clients woke early to board the Sunlander extending their trip due to the floods. Once they arrived in Bundaberg they were greeted by Bundaberg staff and clients then travelled to the camp site at Mon Repos.

Clients unpacked and set up tents with staff and raced towards the beach for swimming, and checking out the Turtle Rookery Exploring the environment. Support Worker Ken treated everyone to a feast.

Camp fire stew was washed out from rain but SW Ken was determined to ensure the clients got the experience and retreated to the kitchen to finish the meal. When the rain was not trying to invade the campsite, we toasted marshmallows and had a sing along.

Everyone had the opportunity to visit the SCSS farm, patting animals, walking and talking with the animals and back at the camp site a possum visited and made friends with the new arrivals and Kangaroo's checked on everyone every morning. Jason had a bedtime visit from a millipede.

We didn't only experience the wildlife. We visited the Bundaberg Rum Factory and were amazed at the volume of rum along the walls. We even had a small taste and a photo with the Bundy Bear-(watch out for those drop bears)

Some days were filled with excursions into town to check out the retail outlets compared to Rocky. Apparently, "the Aldi store was not required in Rockhampton", according to Curtis.

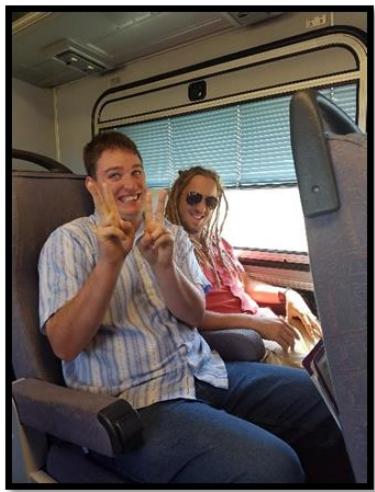

Bundaberg staff and clients visited to take us for a guided tour walk along the walking track between the beachfront then relaxed to a session of Tia Chi.

We wined and dined by CEO Greg for lunch. Greg introduced everyone to the staff who manage the running of the office for all three regions.

We filled our quiet time with fishing, basketball, long walks, dancing to our own beat, races, playground equipment play, and just plain old chilling.

Despite the two hour wait for our train to take us back the trip back on the tilt train was much quicker as the flood waters had receded. A great time had by all.

Biggest Morning Tea

On 9th June our Bundaberg office held a Biggest Morning Tea event (plus a Crazy hair/hat day) to help raise money for people affected by Cancer. We are very pleased to announce that we raised a total of $500.00 donated to the Cancer Council.

Thank you to everyone involved with helping, especially Deb who put together the beautiful baked goods, they were delicious, and Monique and her family for donating the raffle prizes!

Who won the raffles? Stephanie won the bottle of rum, and Marina won the Mackerel Fish ☺

Lee's Bundaberg Adventure

Written by Ben Stehbens

For Lee Nutley the 5 am wake up and early train ride from Rockhampton to Bundaberg was well and truly worth it to be able to see two Bundy icons. After the train ride down and a quick check in at the motel Lee was off and on his way to the Ginger beer factory for a tour and a taste test. Lee was immediately impressed at the sight of the big barrel and done up old time pickup as he entered for the tour. Then after the tour being able to taste over 15 different flavours of brewed drinks had lee very chuffed.

The next day however was the big one, the one he had been waiting for, the one that Lee travelled from Rocky for,,, The Bundaberg Rum Distillery tour. After a trip through the museum, seeing the bottles and watching some videos it was off through the distillery to see how his favourite rum is made. After the tour a quick taste test and a spot of shopping to be sure he was bringing home some souvenirs it was back to the motel for a well deserved rest.

The next day Lee heading to the botanical gardens and was captivated by Bert Hinkler and the aviation museum, and had a nice breakfast at the cafe and caught up with his mum. Then the evening heading over to Grunskes By The River for a beautiful seafood dinner with his mum and dad before heading back to the motel after a massive day to catch up on some sleep for the train ride home then next day.

This was the first holiday Lee had been on that was planned solely around his own interests and Lee cant wait to come back and do it again.

A note from Lee's Mum.....

Hi Mandy,

Simply wanted to put in writing how wonderful the holiday planned for Lee was. To me it was the culmination of 40 years, and seeing how wonderful true independence can be.

Was great to be invited by Lee to come and meet him at some of his plans on his holiday. It is the first time in those 40 years that I felt he was equal to his siblings. We had to meet at his choice of venue, this is new. Lee chose to be at the gardens and we were to meet him there. No plans by us to find access or transport etc but Ben did a wonderful job as did Mick who he got to come as well.

Watching Lee peruse the gardens and go into the Bert Hinkler museum to buy a book on Australian air heritage, and have morning tea with them was the start. In the evening we caught up and ate the most beautiful food at the restaurant of Lee's choice. As it happened his carer did his apprenticeship there so we got to tour this place as a family and see the trawler that caught the fish for dinner.

The lights from the deck gave Lee a lot of pleasure then a taxi trip to his unit. Ben the carer had organised all this equipment at a cost affordable to Lee plus the correct train to house Lee's electric chair.

He also worked hard to save on returning said equipment. I feel so comfortable and so good that I got to see first hand how this holiday transpired. In fact I can say elated, the more I thought how wonderful this milestone is, the more elated I felt.

It, for me, has taken years to trust again, for all the water under the bridge, but this wonderful holiday is such an icing on the cake for those 40 years.

So I wanted to say sincerely how wonderful Ben is, your agency is, and how tirelessly I see them all work to give the true quality of life, the independent life, and mostly the happy life supplied by all of you is truly wonderful.

For all I have witnessed over time I simply want to say how I appreciate all the efforts of such a wonderful team. I feel truly blessed to have chosen you all. As to Ben, what a gem you have!

I know Lee is happy. I know he wishes to move and find another property. I also know that it would always and have to be with such a wonderful committed agency as you.

Sincerely,
Pauline Nutley Qld

What has been happening in Family Day Care?

Miya and Ryley had lots of fun playing with the yellow foam at “Kazzie’s family daycare” these holidays. Southern Cross Family Daycare does 0-13yrs of age care covering before and after school care and vacation care.

“Debbies Family Daycare” will be celebrating NAIDOC week on the sixth July with traditional music, facepainting, bark painting and lots of dancing. Celebrating the Traditional owners of the land we stand on.

We are looking for new Family Day Care Educators, from Fraser Coast to Rockhampton, if you are interested give Gayle our Coordinator a call on 07 4153 5887.

Birthday Celebrations

By Kim Lovett

On the 16th May, we celebrated Patrick's 23rd Birthday at the Eastern Pearl Chinese Restaurant. Everyone had fun at the lunch and we all swapped stories of the funny times we have had with Patrick.

Greg, Kala and Ben T gave speeches and Kala made such a special speech she even made herself cry. Great speech Kala.

Patrick was very excited to receive all his wonderful gifts and we must say a huge THANK YOU to Kathryn who took the time to make Patrick an awesome Birthday Cake.

Hope you had a wonderful day Patrick!!!

Saturdays with Dwayne

By John Borg

As usual time has come around so quickly to write out another report.

This term Dwayne was surprised when I rocked up with a new ride-on. It didn't take him long to master the new machine. As one of the photos show him sitting on the new machine, teasing Support Worker saying "Gee John bet this machine can lift the front tyres if I gun it, just kidding".

But the ride-on was put through its paces as I got Dwayne to mow the front Road paddock at Waterview Farm.

That Saturday we spent all day there only breaking to drop the engine oil as it had to be changed after the first 5 hours. Dwayne was very keen to learn how to do maintenance on the mower as the photo shows.

With our other break which we had was a tail-gate BBQ lunch which Dwayne enjoyed, of course eating it, sitting on this mower as as he kept telling me. Then straight back to mowing the paddock. It didn't get finished that day and Dwayne telling Support Worker that he wanted to come on Sunday to finish it. Love the enthusiasm.

Back at his place as theDwayne has planted some bananas and dragon fruit, the photo shows Dwayne filling in the small trench after laying underground pipes to water the fruit trees.

I didn't get a chance to take a photo of Dwayne's veggie garden but will do in the next newsletter. At the moment, he has potatoes, tomatoes, snow peas, carrots, kale and around four different herbs in his garden. Support Workers are using the kale and herbs to cook with and Dwayne tells me that he picks leaves of the parsley, kale and basil and eats them green. Great to hear.

In ending I love to report that Dwayne is now doing grocery shopping each week as the photo shows, thanks to our Team Leader Mitch for coming up with the idea.

Until the next newsletter.

Cheers John.

Ben's Report

By John Borg

Hi all, once again I like to report that Ben is doing well and is kept busy which he tells me that's what he wants.

As I have mentioned in this newsletter in Dwayne's story, Greg has bought a new ride-on of course Ben said he should have bought two of them.

You must excuse the quality of some of the photos as they don't do the activity justice.

The activities on the photos are Ben using a jigsaw to repair a chair for another client.

Another is Ben shoveling compost into rows at Waterview Farm to prepare the plot to plant sweet corn and of course Ben on the new mower cutting down the grass in the road paddock at Waterview Farm.

I only have Ben a few days a week so he has many other activities with other Support Workers but mainly Support Worker Peter which Ben gets on well with.

Ben was taken to a Truck show in Brisbane and went and saw Lee Kernaghan here in Bundaberg.

Ben is also doing some private lawns which he gets paid for.

In closing I see Ben is being more independent as time goes by, he keeps his flat very clean and insists on cooking his own meals among other things he does on his own.

Until the next newsletter.

Ben's Camping Trip

Meet the new SCSS Office Staff

Lee Morse - Clinician

Lee joined SCSS in April 2017 as Clinician after working for Disability Services in the Specialist Behaviour Team in Townsville for 5 years before recently relocating to Maryborough.

"As a social worker, I have worked in a variety of areas including Child Safety, Health, Mental Health, disabilities, Immigration and border control in Australia and United Kingdom. "

Originally from NSW I was enticed, by a young Welsh man, to move to the United Kingdom and marry and have 3 children. "I love the fact that as a social worker in a complex needs environment every day is different. I enjoy the variety in my work and that no two service users' needs are the same. I am always continually learning and kept on my toes.

"The most rewarding part of my role is when I see people's lives change for the better and my support is no longer needed anymore.

Marina Thomas - Customer Service Officer

Marina joined SCSS in March 2017 as our Customer Service Officer. Marina has previously worked in a variety of front-line roles in New Zealand, Australia and around the world and left the Gold Coast a year ago to move to Bundaberg for a tree-change!

As a kiwi gal Marina supports the All Blacks every chance she gets, is a closet cross-stitcher and a health and fitness nut, enjoying the outdoors and cooking up a storm in her free time.

"I'm a people person, I get great satisfaction from helping others and working in a service capacity. Working at SCSS has been very rewarding for me so far, especially getting to know our clients and Support Workers, and the amazing staff. It's an exciting time to join this industry, I'm looking forward to bringing a positive vibe to the front office in Bundaberg."

Victoria Holzberger – Fraser Coast trainee

My name is Victoria Holzberger, I am 20 years old and I'm the Business Admin Trainee in Hervey Bay.

I am passionate about travelling, experiencing new things and want to make a positive impact with everything I do.

I have previously studied a diploma in Child, Youth and Family intervention because this type of industry is where my passion lies.

I would eventually like to become a Child Advocate sometime in the future.

Christine has recently joined SCSS on 12 June 2017 as the Service Manager for Rockhampton and Gladstone. Christine has worked for a variety of NGO and Government organisations throughout her working career within the Community Services Sector including several managerial positions.

Christine is a local to the Rockhampton region having lived here for her entire life and enjoys going to the beach, catching up with friends and family for BBQ's, watching Netflicks to unwind after a busy day and reading a thriller by James Patterson or Tess Gerritsen.

"I love working in the Community Services Industry and during this time of great change, within the Disability Sector, am looking forward to working with many clients, parents/guardians, and other SCSS staff to ensure we have a broad understanding of the NDIS and its implementation in Central Queensland. This will enable SCSS to be able to support our clients and their loved ones to understand and embrace their new NDIS Plans and provide an environment whereby our clients can transition to this new model with ease and achieve the goals within their plans."

Rhiannon Mercer - Rockhampton Trainee

Hi everyone!

My name is Rhiannon and I have been with Southern Cross Support Services – Rockhampton office for a little over a month now.

I currently am a business trainee with SCSS and I have loved every part of the experience especially considering this is my first professional job. It feels amazing to be putting effort towards an organisation that builds their foundation upon and around helping other people.

I am very fortunate to have found an occupation which I enjoy and can create formal and professional relationships with both staff and clients.

I look forward to meeting everyone that I have not yet, and hope everyone is enjoying their role as much as I am.

A new word hitting the Health circuit now is Lagom (pronounced (lå:gom) it is a Swedish word meaning "just the right amount". The Lexin Swedish-English dictionary defines Lagom as "enough, sufficient, adequate, just right". Lagom is also widely translated as "in moderation", "in balance", "perfect-simple", and "suitable".

In other words.... “not too little, not too much”
